

meg jones	Timing	Session 1	Session 2	Session 3	Session 4	Session 5	Session 6	Session 7
Slot 1	Thursday, 13:00	Plixavra Vogiatzoglou (KU Leuven). Limiting the limitations: the purpose specification principle in article 8 ECFR	Tom Norton (Fordham University), Joel Reidenberg (Fordham University), Norman Sadeh (Carnegie Mellon University) and Abhilasha Ravichander (Carnegie Mellon University) . Evaluating How Global Privacy Principles Answer Consumers' Questions About Mobile App Privacy	Svetlana Yakovleva (University of Amsterdam), Wessel Geursen (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam) and Axel Arnbak (University of Amsterdam). Towards a coordinated enforcement of data-related rules by data protection, competition and consumer authorities	Gloria González Fuster (Vrije Universiteit Brussel) and Olga Gkatsopoulou (Vrije Universiteit Brussel). Sex, life, and data protection: An exploration	Raphaële Xenidis (European University Institute and Utrecht University). Equality in the age of artificial intelligence: Is EU anti-discrimination law up to the challenge?	Robert Riemann (no affiliation (until approved by employer)). Peer-to-Peer Protocols and Data Protection in the European Union	Alexandra Giannopoulou (University of Amsterdam). Data protection by design on the blockchain
Slot 2	Thursday, 14:45	Seda Gürses (Delft University of Technology and KU Leuven). Privacy By Design: A matter of labor	Eleni Kosta (Tilburg University). A two-tier European data protection framework: a critical reflection on the choices of the European legislator post- Lisbon	Marlijn Sax (University of Amsterdam) and Jef Ausloos (University of Amsterdam). From Game to Content Delivery Platform: An Investigation of Fortnite's Manipulative Practices	Meg Jones (Georgetown University) and Margot Kaminski (University of Colorado). An American's Guide to the GDPR	Francesca Pichierrri (FIZ-Karlsruhe). Online manipulative practices for electoral gain and the danger to democracy: opening a discussion on regulation	Lilian Edwards (Newcastle University) and Michael Veale (University College London). Regulating Unreality	Katja de Vries (Lund University). A two-directional relation between Artificial Intelligence and Constitutional Rights?
Slot 3	Thursday, 16:30	Gianclaudio Malgieri (Vrije Universiteit Brussel). A linguistic comparison of the concept of Fairness in the GDPR: towards a vulnerability-aware interpretation of (un) fairness as imbalance	Oshrat Ayalon (Tel Aviv University) and Eran Toch (Tel Aviv University and Cornell Tech). Making Privacy-by-Design User-Centered: Challenges and Methods for Involving Users in Privacy Engineering Processes	Salome Viljoen (Harvard University) and Ben Green (Harvard University). Algorithmic Realism: Embedding the Social in Technological Thought	Maja Brkan (Maastricht University). European Democracy and Free Elections in the age of Artificial Intelligence	Ari Waldman (New York University). Privacy Discourse		Smarika Lulz (Humboldt University of Berlin). Who Are we Unwilling to Hear?: A Problematisation of GDPR's "Right to Explanation" as a Means to Algorithmic Accountability
RECEPTION		17:45-19:30
Slot 4	Friday, 9:30-10:4	Laura Drechsler (Vrije Universiteit Brussel). Adequacy decisions under the Law Enforcement Directive: "the same but different" compared to GDPR adequacy	Reuben Binns (University of Oxford) and Michael Veale (University College London). Is That Your Final Decision? Multi-Stage Profiling and Selective Significance under EU Data Protection Law	Josephine Williams (University of Amsterdam) and Kristina Irion (University of Amsterdam). Now you see me, now you don't: international trade and geo-governance of facial recognition technology	Karolina Galezowska (University of Warsaw). Right to explain: the Polish approach	Dan Burk (University of California, Irvine). Algorithmic Legal Metrics	Wenlong Li (University of Edinburgh) and Karen Gregory (University of Edinburgh). Restoring Gig Workers to Power: Personal Data Portability, Supply of Digital Content and Free Flow of Data in the European Data Economy	Gabriela Zanfir-Fortuna (Future of Privacy Forum) and Stacey Gray (Future of Privacy Forum). A Taxonomy of Fairness in Transatlantic Privacy and Data Protection Law
Slot 5	Friday, 11:15-12	Nicolo Zingales (University of Leeds), Inge Graef (Tilburg University) and Martin Husovec (Tilburg University). Joint controllership & joint responsibilities: a concept in need of limiting principles	Neil Richards (Washington University) and Woodrow Hartzog (Northeastern University). Privacy's Constitutional Moment	Paddy Leerssen (University of Amsterdam). The soap box is a black box: regulating social media recommender systems through data protection and media law	Orla Lynskey (London School of Economics). A Rule of Reason in EU Data Protection Law	Ignacio Cofone (McGill University) and Katherine Strandburg (New York University). Strategic Games and Algorithmic Transparency	Raphael Gellert (Tilburg University). Organising the regulation of algorithms: comparative legal lessons	Eric Lachaud (Tilburg University). Adhering to GDPR codes of conduct: a possible option for SMEs to GDPR certification
Slot 6	Friday, 13:30-14	Tom Dobber (University of Amsterdam), Ronan Fahy (University of Amsterdam) and Frederik Zuiderveen Borgesius (University of Amsterdam). The Regulation of Online Political Microtargeting in Europe	Sandra Wachter (University of Oxford). Affinity Profiling and Discrimination by Association in Online Behavioural Advertising	Gavin Phillipson (University of Bristol). The unguided balance between free speech and privacy under the new GDPR 'right to be forgotten': a role for free speech theory?	Blagovesta Betty Pirelli (Ecole Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne), Seda Gürses (Delft University of Technology and KU Leuven) and Carmela Troncoso (Ecole Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne). Privacy technologies meet Software Engineering: on the challenges of privacy engineering in an Agile world	Federica Casarosa (European University Institute). The collective redress of data protection in the Regulation 2016/679 – a step forward towards transnational collective actions?	Sebastian Benthall (New York University) and Jake Goldenfein (Cornell Tech). What is Socio-Political Emancipation in the Control Paradigm?	Jenneke Evers (Leiden University). Dissecting the support for SyRI: A discourse analysis of the debate about data-driven law enforcement
Slot 7	Friday, 15:15-16	Mara Paun (Tilburg University). Diagnosis: Regulatory disconnection – Time to reorganize data protection law?	René Mahieu (Vrij Universiteit Brussel), Hadi Asghari (Delft University of Technology) and Joris van Hoboken (University of Amsterdam). Investigating an ecology of transparency: Experiences of the right of access in practice.	Carl Vander Maelen (Ghent University). Codes of (Mis)conduct? An Appraisal of Articles 40-41 GDPR	Katrina Ligett (Hebrew University of Jerusalem) and Kobbi Nissim (Georgetown University). Ground Rules and Goals for Data Co-ops [FIXED TIMESLOT, AT AUTHOR'S REQUEST]	Chris Hoofnagle (University of California, Berkeley). Political Economy of the Quantum Information Age	Cristiana Santos (University Toulouse 1-Capitol), Célestin Matte (Institut National de Recherche en Informatique et en Automatique) and Natalia Bielova (Institut National de Recherche en Informatique et en Automatique). How to comply with European law on cookies? A legal-technical approach	Jon Penney (University of Toronto and Harvard University) and Danielle Citron (Boston University). When Law Frees Us To Speak