

The University of Amsterdam's Institute for Information Law (IViR) announces

Summer Course on International Copyright Law

The course will discuss recent developments and broader trends in copyright law. A dedicated faculty of renowned scholars and practitioners from Europe and the US will examine the most crucial current issues of copyright law from a comparative law perspective and in the light of recent international and regional agreements.

For information on the faculty, programme and application please visit the course websites

<https://ivir.nl/courses/icl>

<https://ivir.nl/courses/plp>

Amsterdam, July 6 to 10, 2020

The course will extend over a five-day period and is held at the Tropeninstituut, a historic building at Mauritskade 63.

Intended audience

The courses are aimed at lawyers*, government officials, NGO staff, academics and PhD students. The courses are taught at the post-graduate level. Participants should have some prior knowledge of the field. Enrolment is limited to 25 participants per course.

* Course participants can obtain credits from NOvA and IAPP

Participants will benefit from

- ✘ One week intensive and interactive course with an excellent faculty updating you about the latest development in these rapidly changing fields
- ✘ Access to comprehensive course material, consisting of the most relevant international, European and American legislative documents, case law, and other background materials
- ✘ Engaging with an international group of participants and faculty during lunches and breaks, a boat trip on the Amsterdam canals with welcome dinner, a reception and other side events in the heart of Amsterdam

Fees

Standard fee: € 2100

Government/Civil society fee: € 1350

Academic fee: € 975

Certificate

Each participant will receive a certificate indicating completion of the programme.

Contact us at

Institute for Information Law, University of Amsterdam

tel: +31 20 525 3920 / email: informationlaw@uva.nl / website: <https://www.ivir.nl>

